PROFILE

My philosophical background has taught me to think critically and creatively, abilities that I have successfully applied in the field of web development, studying as a self-taught learner. I mainly use technologies such as Vue.js and Tailwind CSS in the frontend, supported by a solid foundation of CSS, HTML, and especially JavaScript, which I am also proficient in using in the backend with Node.js and Express.js. I have limited experience in using relational databases (SQL) and non-relational databases (MongoDB), as well as with Python and frameworks like Django and Flask.
